KOMMANDEUR DER
NACHRICHTEN AUFKLÄRUNG 5

PREAMBLE

1. PW A was born in BREMEN 19 Jun 1918 as the only son of a business man. His mother is English by birth, having been born in EASTBOURNE, Sussex (maiden name CRAMER). PW attended Cheltenham College from 1934 to Spring 1936. After returning to GERMANY he took his Abitur at MARBURG and again returned to ENGLAND in 1937 to 1938 to study law at Merton College, OXFORD. As he is partly Jewish, the existing laws prohibited him attending a German university. In Apr 39 he was called up to the German Army, but since he was "non-Aryan" he was not permitted to rise above the rank of O/Gefr. His background offers enough proof for his strong anti-Nazi feelings, and the information given is regarded as very reliable.
2. PW B was born in BERLIN on 24 Aug 1913. He attended a secondary school, and then a business school for two years. In 1936 he left for the USA on a student visa, which he obtained under an affidavit given by the Acadia Baptist Academy in CHURCH POINT, La. PW graduated from this school in 1937 and found employment with the South Central Drilling Co, La and later with a shirt factory in GULF PORT, Miss. He left the USA in Jun 38 under orders of the Immigration authorities who refused either to extend his student visa or change it into an immigration visa. Back in GERMANY he took up work with the Ford Motor Co in their BERLIN plant as a follow-up man in the purchasing dept, was later promoted assistant chief buyer, then manager of the production dept, and finally head of the purchasing dept. PW was called up in Jan 42 and in 43 promoted Uffz. He is a convinced anti-Nazi and extremely cooperative. His memory is prodigious and its accuracy is corroborated in a number of instances; all information can therefore be regarded as reliable. //

3. (contd)

- (1) Signals Intelligence Evaluation Dept 5 (Nachrichten Aufklärungs Auswertestelle 5), which acted as the "Unterstab" of the Kommandeur and also had under it a static Signals intelligence centre known as Feste Nachrichten Aufklärungsstelle 12.
- (2) Static Signals Intelligence Centre 9 (Feste Nachrichten Aufklärungsstelle 9).
- (3) Static Signals Intelligence Centre 3 (Feste Nachrichten Aufklärungsstelle 3).
- (4) Static Signals Intelligence Centre 2 (Feste Nachrichten Aufklärungsstelle 2).
- (5) Long Range Recce Coy 613 (Nachrichten Fernaufklärungs Kp 613).
- (6) Long Range Recce Coy 624 (Nachrichten Fernaufklärungs Kp 624).

4. Before Feb 44, the Kommandeur, in addition to operating the whole machine for the H5h Na FM, also administered each of the component units direct.

5. He might, moreover, detach any part of the Long Range Recce Coys to a Division, Corps or Army, there to work under the guidance of the Ic, whilst, however, reporting the results obtained also to himself.

6. Strength

Commander, Adjutant, Paymaster, Ia Schreiber.
Approx 30 ORs (drivers, clerks, telephone operators etc).

B. After Feb 44

7. Some time after Feb 44, the mobile units with long range coys were built up into separate Signals Intelligence Bns (Nachrichten Aufklärungsabteilungen) by the addition of a close range recce coy. At the same time Feste Nachrichten Aufklärungsstelle 12 was removed from under the Nachrichten Aufklärungs Auswertestelle and converted into another Abteilung, Nachrichten Aufklärungsabteilung 13, by the addition of another unit similar to itself. The resulting layout of the Ktr der Nachr Aufkl 5, with 6 component units, is shown in Appendix 2.

8. The reorganisation was accompanied by a change of administrative control. The constitution of the three new Abteilungen meant in effect that the particular units concerned were now grouped under three staffs who took over from the Kommandeur their detailed administration, not, however, the power of detachment, which remained with the Kommandeur.

9. Replacements

Personnel were received from the Nachrichten Aufklärungs Ers Abt in FRANKFURT a/M, interpreters from the Nachrichten Dolmetscher Ersatz Abt MEISSEN, later ST AVOLD and HALLE; code clerks from OKH In 7/VI.

NAA St 510. Structure

This department had under it the so-called "Unterstab". The Comd of the Unterstab was not a technically trained man, but an administrative man, and as such responsible to the unit Comd for the military training of all personnel of the NAA St falling under authority of the Unterstab.

11. Strength

DECLASSIFIED
Authority EO 13526

FNA St 3 13. Structure

This unit consisted of one evaluation platoon, a WT intercept pl and a DF pl. The evaluation pl was divided into two sections, the Inhaltsauswertung (translation of clear-text messages) and the Verkehrsauswertung. The Inhaltsauswertung was staffed by interpreter personnel. A card index section was also maintained and an interpreter was engaged in the preliminary sorting of the incoming messages. In the final evaluation section intercept reports originated.

13. In autumn 1943 the interception of teletype traffic originating in USA, called FF 5 traffic (Funk Fernschreiber 5), was instituted and great care was taken in its development. The FNA St 3 was engaged only in USA traffic interception.

14. Strength

Personnel consisted of approx 100 men comprising 15 code clerks, interpreters, WT intercept personnel, WT operators (transmitter was available in the unit) office clerks and approx 60 Nachrichtenhelferinnen who were employed as WT intercept personnel to permit transfer of men to the close range recce coys (Nahaufklärungskomp).

FNA St 9 15. Structure

PW know no details about the actual organisation, but believe that its structure is similar to FNA St 3. They were mainly engaged in intercepting traffic from GREAT BRITAIN, USA traffic, including ICELAND and SWEDEN.

NAA 12 16. Structure

The HQ of this unit was reorganised in Feb 44. The actual technical duties of this organisation were the forwarding and checking of orders issued by the Kommandeur. There were no technically trained personnel in this unit. Its total strength was 15 men.

NFA Kp 624 17. Structure
(Mot)

This Coy, which was subordinate to the NAA 12, was formed at MONTPELLIER on 16 Apr 43. It was composed of an Intercept platoon with an advanced listening post, a communication platoon, an evaluation platoon and the general Tross usually found with a regular coy. Transport consisted of approx 85 vehicles. Six special vehicles, rebuilt French WT trucks, were at the disposal of the Coy, with several trailers with DF equipment. Apart from approx 90 drivers, the Coy included technical personnel such as decoders (15), interpreters and WT intercept operators, bringing the total strength up to approx 250 men.

18. Tasks

Interception of English and American traffic in NORTH AFRICA, later also in ITALY, French police WT traffic especially on CORSICA and, up to 5 Jan 44, Spanish, Portuguese and Brazilian traffic. Supervision of the three last-named countries was on 5 Jan 44, transferred to the FNA St 12, together with the personnel engaged in its supervision.

NNAZ (Fu) 19. Structure and History
12(?)

This pl was newly formed in Apr 44. It was fully motorised, having 15 vehs at its disposal. It had originally been distance, this attachment was only theoretical. In practice this pl remained under authority of the NNA 12. For detailed description of the organisation see NNA Kp 965.

NNA 13(?) 20. Structure
Formation and structure of this unit were similar to NAA 12(?).

FNA St 12 Structure
(a) 5 Jan 44 - 6 Jun 44

21. This unit was under control of the NAA 13(?). It was formed from the WT Intercept Pl originally belonging to the NAA St 5. It consisted of a WT Intercept Pl, a telephone comm Trupp. This unit also maintained a 100-watt transmitter which under table of allowance was the property of NAA St 5. In addition they had a telephone and teletype Trupp.

22. The FNA St 12 was the only organisation with the Kommandeur 5 without a WE allowing for coding personnel, (though in fact they had 8 code clerks at the outset).

23. The evaluation at this unit was limited to a simple sorting of intercepted messages, as the actual evaluation was done at the NAA St 5.

(b) After 6 Jun 44

24. From 5 Jan 44 until 6 Jun 44 traffic from SPAIN, BRAZIL and PORTUGAL was being intercepted. With the invasion, this interception was stopped completely and the operators employed for interception of British and American traffic. Evaluators of SPAIN, PORTUGAL and BRAZIL were either sent to the Coy Tross or transferred to the inf. The available eight code-clerks were transferred to the NAA St 5 to work on British and American code systems.

25. Strength
Approx 120 men and 30 Nachr Helferinnen.

FNA St 2 26. Structure and strength
These are believed to be the same as those of FNA St 3.

NAA 14(?) 27. Structure and strength
For structure and strength and formation see details as listed under NAA 12.

NFA Kp 613
(Mot) 28. This unit was under command of NAA 14(?).

29. Structure and strength
Structure and strength are presumably the same as found in NFA Kp 624.

NNA Kp 965
(Mot) 30. This coy was newly formed in Jun 44 at ST GERMAIN.

31. Structure and strength
It consisted of a Funktrupp operating a 70 watt transmitter, a telephone Trupp (at the same time line construction Trupp), an evaluation echelon and a decoding section.

The Coy consisted of 4 signals close range recce pls. As per WE the 4th Pl was to be a coding training unit but in accordance with

METHODS

DECLASSIFIED

GENERAL

34. The static Signals Intelligence Departments as well as the long range Interception Coys work independently. This means that each unit composes a Traffic Report (Betriebsmeldung), a DF Result Report (Peilmeldung), a Report on the translated clear text messages (Funkmeldung) and a report on the decoded messages (VN-Meldung = Verlässliche Nachrichten Meldung). All these reports are sent daily, either by runner or by teletype, to those units whose task it is to write the WT Operation Reports (Funklagemeldung).

35. These units also have to compose daily Reports of all the translated messages in clear (Funkmeldung) as well as of all decoded messages (VN-Meldung), consisting of an extract of the corresponding reports sent up by the intercepting units. These again are distributed as follows:-

- 1 copy to OKH In 7/VI
- 1 copy to "Horchleitstelle West"
- 1 copy to every intercepting unit concerned.

36. Messages in clear were taken down without a copy, whilst encoded messages were taken down with three copies, to enable the decoding department of the NAA St 5 and that of the In 7/VI to work on these messages simultaneously. The only exception was the FNA St 12, which had no decoding department of its own, so that only two copies were necessary.

CHANNELS

37. The channels of the Kommandeur der Nachrichten 5 correspond to the channels as described under the Kommandeure 7 and 4. (See S.I.R. 1341, 1346).

ALLOCATION OF TRAFFIC

38. The traffics assigned for interception were:

- (1) BRITISH ISLES.
- (2) U.S.A. (including ICELAND and American troops in ENGLAND).
- (3) SPAIN, PORTUGAL and BRAZIL.

FOR INTERCEPTION

EVALUATION REPORTING

39. BRITISH ISLES.

The WT Operation Reports were set up by the Final Evaluation Department of the NAA St 5.

Approximate distribution was as follows:

- OB West
- Höherer Nachrichtenführer
- Kommandeur der Nachr Aufkl 5
- OKH In 7/VI
- OKW Horchleitstelle West.

Further, one copy to all those units which intercepted the WT traffic of the BRITISH ISLES:

- NFA Kp 613 (long range Intercept Coy 613)
- NFA Kp 624 (long range Intercept Coy 624)
- FNA St 9 (Static Signals Intelligence Dept)
- FNA St 2 (Static Signals Intelligence Dept)
- FNA St 12 (Static Signals Intelligence Dept).

The WT Operation Reports were set up by the Final Evaluation Department of the NMA St 5. In Jan 44 this task was given to the FNA St 3 in EUSKIRCHEN. At the same time the personnel hitherto engaged on this work with the NMA St 5 were transferred to EUSKIRCHEN.

Distribution of these reports as in para 39.
The units intercepting US WT traffic were:

NEA Kp 624 (?)
FNA St 9
FNA St 3
FNA St 12

41. SPAIN, PORTUGAL and BRAZIL

The WT Operation Reports for this sector were set up by the FNA St 1 in MONTPELLIER. On 16 Apr 43 this task was taken over by the NEA Kp 624. From here it was again turned over to the FNA St 12 on 5 Jan 44. Finally this sector was altogether dropped on 6 Jun 44. Distribution of the WT Operation Reports as follows:

Kommandeur der Nachr Aufkl 5
OKH In 7/VI
Horchleitstelle West

As the interception of the WT traffic in this sector was not considered as being of any greater importance, no DF Units or DF sets were employed here.

CODE
CRACKING

42. PW B having stated that messages from the American code machine M 209 were cracked, he was further questioned on this point, with the following result:-

43. An average of 200 to 250 M 209 messages would be intercepted during a day's work. These messages came from one or more stations, according to the conditions of interception available at the time. The deciphering staff sorted out and segregated all messages that had the same final two letters in the second group of the two indicator groups in the message. Those messages which had the same two letters in the second indicator group all originated on the same net and were on the same internal setting. As a maximum 3 piles of messages would emerge, although frequently the number of piles was less than 3. Each pile represented traffic from a different net. Operators were allotted certain frequencies and tended to stick to the nets which yielded most traffic.

44. It was nevertheless usually impossible to proceed with breaking the code after this procedure had been carried through; in occasional cases, however, two separate messages would be found in a pile of one day's traffic in which there was complete identity between the two indicator groups. It was thereby possible to see that the external setting of the two messages was the same and the cracking of these two messages could be undertaken in a space of two to four hours' time. A further 5 days were however needed if it was proposed to crack all messages received that day on a net which had the same internal setting, i.e. had the same two letters at the end of the second indicator group. Of these five days one day was required to determine the relative internal setting of the message and four more days were needed to establish the absolute internal setting. Once this process had been accomplished all that day's traffic which had the same two letters at the end of the second indicator group could be cracked automatically. It was, however,

44. impossible to crack the traffic of succeeding days without resuming the procedure outlined all over again for subsequent traffic. The value of cracking this code, therefore, lay not in the immediate tactical information, which was difficult to obtain, but in the order of battle information, casualty figures and personality data which it was valuable to learn even after five days' delay.
